

As we enter our 50th season, Edmonton's Only par 58 golf course, The Rundle Park Short Course, is in search of a Head Professional. A title that is much more than that, it is a chance to shape the very roots of the game. This is a place where beginners take their first swings, families discover the joy of golf together, and the community connects through fun, accessible, affordable play. As Head Professional, you won't just manage a course and staff — you'll inspire new golfers, grow the game from the ground up, and create meaningful experiences that stick with people for life.

This role is perfect for a professional who believes golf is more than scorecards and tournaments — it's about inclusion, mentorship, character-building, and community. If you're passionate about teaching, energized by development, and motivated by the idea of leaving a positive mark on the next generation of golfers, the Rundle Park Short Course is where your impact will be truly felt.
