

Kameron Wolford

Customer Technology Specialist

Digital Solutions Offered To Help Support Your Food and Beverage Business

A focus on supporting your bottom line and growth within the business, the Gordon Recipe Pro and Gordon Restaurant Pro tools can help manage your Food & Beverage operation making your business stronger and more profitable.

Kameron has been in the restaurant and hospital industry for 18+ years working, with the last 6 years focusing on restaurant technologies and program integrations. He has focused on becoming an expert in utilizing different technologies to drive profitability within the industry and has worked with many different types of businesses from full service fine dining to quick serve and catering. Kameron spends most of his time working with restaurants to drive efficiencies and processes based around technology to help support and solve a wide range of issues that our operators face. He also spends a significant amount of time working with development teams to ensure that programs offered are customer focused and best in class.

Darren Lexa

Culinary Specialist

Digital Solutions Offered To Help Support Your Food and Beverage Business

A focus on supporting your bottom line and growth within the business, the Gordon Recipe Pro and Gordon Restaurant Pro tools can help manage your Food & Beverage operation making your business stronger and more profitable.

Darren brings a wealth of operational food service experience in both culinary and front of house operations from a career spanning 25+ years in regional operations with high-volume, full service sit-down, premium casual dining, and quick-service grab n' go concepts. Culinary Specialists strategically utilize knowledge and expertise, in combination with industry trends and Gordon Food Service products, services and resources, to provide profit-maximizing solutions in the areas of culinary application, front and back of the house operations, and overall business planning to our regional customers. Darren's extensive background in regional operations with some of Canada's leading restaurant brands, as well as a long history as a Gordon Food Service customer, make him a natural fit with respect to developing and providing collaborative operational solutions for Gordon Food Service customers in the Prairies Region (Alberta/Saskatchewan/Manitoba).

